Information Architecture
Top Level v1.1
NOTES:
Guides are narratives or stories that introduce new users to the organization and to the website.
Search & Browse indices allow fast, direct access to the contents of the website.
The directory of subsite records serves as a "card catalog" and provides access to the subsites themselves.
Subsites contain the actual content of the website. There are 3 major types of subsite. Each subsite might be created and maintained by a different department.
